into the registry of this Court, amounting to the sum of £77 11s.
Sum of the charge is [blank]

Out of which these accountants have paid and discharged the several sum hereunder written for which they crave allowance as followeth.

The Discharge

Imprimis - paid and expended in and about the funeral of the said deceased £3

Item paid for the letters of administration of the said intestate's goods, appraising the same, drawing and engrossing of the inventories, exhibiting the same, drawing and engrossing of this account, 'quietus est' thereupon, seal and other charges thereunto incident, £2 4s 6d.

Sum of the Discharge, £5 4s. 6d.

So there remains in the accountants' hands, £72 6s. 6d.

Exhibited 15 April 1672

Note: Anthony Bache was buried at Eastnor on 18 April 1671. The will of his father, Anthony Bache the elder, tailor of Eastnor, dated 8 April 1665 (Herefs. RO 10/2/2) names a son Anthony, and Anthony the elder's wife Joan. It must be coincidence that the son's wife was also called Joan, and seems to have remarried soon after the death of her husband. The marriage of Joan Bach with Thomas Nurbury alias Careless is not recorded at Eastnor; it may have taken place at Ledbury, where members of the Nurbury family lived [Herefs. RO BO93/2]
